

Directions: After reading the background information and examining the source, answer the questions below.

Background information: Samuel de Champlain was a French explorer who played a significant role in the early exploration and colonization of Canada. He founded the city of Quebec in 1608 and established enduring French influence in the region. In 1609, Samuel de Champlain joined Algonquin, Wendat (Huron) and Innu (Montagnais) allies in a battle against the Iroquois near Ticonderoga.

Featured Sources:

SOURCE A

Source Title: "Champlain's Fight with the Iroquois, 1609"

Creator: Jeffreys, C.W.

Date: 1934

SOURCE B

Source Title: "Defeat of the Iroquois at Lake Champlain" published in Champlain, S. de, Les voyages du sieur de Champlain

Creator: Champlain, Samuel de

Date: 1613

Statement: Which source would be more useful for historians searching for useful primary source evidence regarding the fall of New France?

Explain your reasoning below:

Source ___ is more useful because...

Source ___ is less useful because...